

Work in pairs.

Student A: Choose one picture and ask a second conditional question.

Student B: Answer the question using the second conditional. Make sure the sentence is logical. Then, say two more sentences describing your hypothetical situation using may, might, could, can or perhaps.

Swap roles. Continue until you run out of pictures.

What would you do if you lived in a big house?

If I lived in a big house, I'd use one room as a games room. I might keep my board games there. I could invite my friends to play games together.
